2 Senators See Steady Prosperity

Tax Cut Not Needed
Immediately, Say
Dirksen, Smathers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. Everett M. Dirksen and George A. Smathers are confident the economy will continue operating in high gear even if there is no tax cut until 1964.

Dirksen, Senate Republican leader, and Smathers, Floridian who is secretary of the Democratic Conference, agreed in an interview that there is no economic downturn in sight.

President Kennedy has been pressing for Senate action on the House-passed $11-billion tax reduction bill to spur business. Smathers remained hopeful there could be action this year but Dirksen said it won't come until 1964.

The Republican leader said he thought it was rather thin and tenuous to contend that tax reduction would have an immediate effect on the economy. He indicated he is not worried by the delay in action.

Smathers said he doesn't believe there will be an economic downturn this year. But he said business leaders and economists remained concerned that if taxes are not cut soon "we would begin to experience a downturn in the early part of next year."

Their views, in brief, on other issues in connection with the tax bill now in the hands of the Senate Finance Committee, of which both are members:

Tying spending limitation to bill:

Dirksen — Exactly how will you enforce it? How do you set it up in order to give it real effect? My experience with ceilings over a long period of time leads me to believe that you have some difficulty there.

Smathers — We are the ones here in Congress who will determine the amount of appropriations. It's not done in the executive branch of the government.

Driver Faces Charge After Car Collision

An East Liverpool motorist faces a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance as an aftermath of a collision between his car and a parked auto Sunday at 4:22 p. m. on Dresden Ave., police reported.

A 1951 sedan operated by William A. Moore, 218 Peach Alley, struck the right rear of a parked 1956 sedan owned by James G. Wright of Cleveland, who was visiting a family in the 900 block of Dresden Ave., officers said.

Wright told police he was eating supper at the Dresden Ave. home when he heard a crash. Investigating, he found his car had been hit, he said. Moore told Patrolman J. A. Walsh the pavement was wet, causing his car to skid and hit Wright's.

The mishap damaged the left side of Moore's car and the right rear fender and transmission of Wright's auto, police said.

As Municipal Court is closed today for the holiday, Moore's hearing probably will be held Tuesday.

Police still are investigating a one-car crash on Harvey Ave. 250 feet west of the state line Sunday at 2:24 a. m. that damaged the front of an auto with Pennsylvania license plates.

Officers said the crash demolished the front of a 1957 DeSoto two-door sedan carrying Pennsylvania tag 611-37U. Patrolman Paul A. Burson investigated.

A witness said he saw a Midland woman walking away from the car after the crash, police said.

20 Ohioans Hunt New Industry At New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Twenty industrial development specialists from Ohio chambers of commerce and utility companies began four days of visits with 250 New York industrial executives today.

Working in pairs, under direction of Lt. Gov. John W. Brown and Director George Wilson of the Department of Development, the volunteer group is urging officials of New York-based industries to consider locating part or all of their facilities in Ohio.

An Editorial

A Plea For Unity

The daily mail brings many letters to an editor's desk. One arrived Saturday which could mean as much to East Liverpool's future as any we have received.

It was from Trades and Labor Council and was signed by Joe Winters, secretary. It reads as follows:

"The delegates to Trades and Labor Council of East Liverpool, Ohio, extend to the victors at the Nov. 5 election many congratulations and much success in their community endeavors.

"We sincerely hope (regardless of party affiliations) that this group will work together for progress and to make our city of East Liverpool a better place to live in. We feel sure this can be accomplished, but only by the cooperation of all the people of East Liverpool. The people of East Liverpool must also eliminate party prejudice where progress is concerned and where the future of East Liverpool is concerned if we are to proceed successfully.

"To the victors: The members of the Trades council will at any time cooperate and offer their services to the best of their ability to assist you in your coming endeavors where the future of East Liverpool is concerned. Please feel free to call on us."

Trades and Labor Council has cooperated in many civic enterprises before, but by its clearcut pledge of cooperation toward municipal progress in the above letter it undoubtedly has done more to stimulate community unity than any previous action it has taken in its long history.

Labor's full support is necessary for the success of all programs that are concerned with a progressive East Liverpool.

The Review has commented on several occasions recently on signs pointing to a general reawakening of community pride and interest. We now are more certain than ever that this is true.

We salute Trades and Labor Council for its far-sighted declaration.

Any who still might have a chip on their shoulder as a result of the Nov. 5 election should take a cue from Trades and Labor, brush off the chip and join all the others who have buried the hatchet and are pulling together for progress.

A united citizenry can speed East Liverpool's advancement immeasurably.

Leftists Rap Leaders

Disasters Spark Politics In Japan

TOKYO (AP)—Leftist cries of government neglect and the smell of funeral incense hung heavily over Japan today as bereaved families arranged services for more than 600 persons killed in a coal mine explosion and triple train crash.

Socialist and Democratic Socialist politicians seized on the double disaster as a major campaign issue in national parliamentary elections only 10 days off.

The leftists held Premier Hayato Ikeda's conservative government responsible for the tragedies, charging the accidents resulted from the government's "one-sided policy to protect monopolistic capitalist classes" at the expense of workers' lives.

The coal dust explosion in the mine at Omuta, on the southern island of Kyushu, killed 449 miners, injured about 450 and left 7 unaccounted for, the Mitsui Mining Co. said. Police said, however, they had counted 452 bodies.

The train wreck six hours later and 600 miles to the north killed 162 persons, including William Scott, 28, of Colorado Springs, Colo., who was studying in Tokyo. At least 70 were injured.

Two persons were injured today in another train wreck. A

Ohio Politics Stir

Taft Expected To Battle Young For Senate Term

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Ohio political picture for 1964 probably will begin to take shape in about three weeks with an expected announcement by Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, that he will seek a second term.

And, unless all signs fall, Rep. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, serving his first term in the House, will then announce that he plans to bid for Young's Senate seat.

As soon as Taft makes his announcement to seek the seat held for years by his father, the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, Rep. Oliver P. Bolton, R-Ohio, is expected to announce for the at-large House seat now held by Taft.

One cloud in the picture was at least partially removed last week when President Kennedy met with Ohio editors at lunch. Kennedy was reported to have slow-moving passenger train rammed another passenger train that had halted half a mile out of the Hiroshima station.

Although the pressure was on Ikeda, the president of Japan National Railways, Reisuke Ishida, said he was accepting full responsibility for Saturday's disaster and would resign.

The pileup near Tokyo was the second three-train crash in 18 months. Japanese rail accidents take an average of 10,000 lives a year.

The opposition parties had few concrete issues last month when Ikeda dissolved the lower house of Parliament. He called the election in an attempt to enlarge his Liberal Democratic party's overwhelming majority of 286 seats, compared with a combined opposition total of 154.

Before the tragedies became an issue, the liberal Democrats expressed confidence of winning 300 or more seats in the Nov. 21 election.

Mine union officials at Omuta also said they would press for new demands. The Omuta miners and management have a long history of bitter struggles and one union man said: "This is one disaster that's going to lead to big trouble in labor-management relations."

Negro Eyes Presidential Primary Bid

Attorney Declares
Self 'Independent'
In New Hampshire

NEW YORK (AP)—Paul Zuber, a Negro leader in the fight against Northern school segregation, has announced he will enter the New Hampshire Republican presidential primary as an independent.

Zuber, an attorney, said at his home in Harlem Sunday night he wants to provide a forum for the expression of Negro views.

During the past five years, Zuber has become an expert in de facto school segregation—created by housing patterns. He has won school integration cases in New York City and New Rochelle, N.Y.; and Englewood and Newark, N.J., and is fighting a similar suit in Chicago.

The 37-year-old Zuber said he will conduct an "education campaign setting forth the Negro's position on civil rights" to New Hampshire voters starting next month.

"No one is better equipped to do this than a Negro, who is more affected by it than anyone else," he said.

Zuber contended that neither Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller nor his prospective rival in the primary, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, is qualified to discuss civil rights.

Zuber, a Republican, said he sees indications of a "serious racial explosion erupting in this country, unless the young Negro is convinced that his just demands are being considered by both major political parties."

He said he also will consider entering primaries in West Virginia, Wisconsin, Illinois, and California.

Gang Quizzed In Slaying Of Football Star

PITTSBURGH — Five members of a Homewood street gang were being held early today in connection with the fatal stabbing of an 18-year-old star Westinghouse High School football player Sunday morning.

William Vasser, who scored eight touchdowns as left end for Westinghouse which won the Pittsburgh city league championship Saturday, was beaten and stabbed in the lower back by the gang on a street in Homewood about 1:30 a. m.

Police said Vasser protected a smaller companion against another youth who returned in a short time with the gang of five to eight, ranging in age from the late teens to 22.

Officers said the suspects being quizzed concerning who wielded the knife are former high school dropouts. High school officials said three of them have been arrested at least ten times each on charges ranging from car theft to carrying concealed weapons.

Fog Shrouds District After Mercury Drops

A combination of warm temperatures Sunday afternoon and a chilling trend last night produced a heavy fog in the East Liverpool district this morning, particularly in the low-lying valley area.

From a high in the 50's yesterday, the mercury dipped to 30 in the suburbs this morning. The overnight low downtown was 35.

The Ohio weatherman said today will be cloudy, with a high in the 50's. The overnight low will be in the 30's. Tuesday will be cloudy and cool.

Waiter's Role At Parley Explained By Rep. Hays

LONDON — Rep. Wayne L. Hays (D-Ohio) said yesterday he brought the head waiter of the House of Representatives dining room to Paris on an expenses-paid trip to serve as liaison man for the American delegation to a NATO parliamentarians' conference.

The trip by waiter Ernest Petinaud has caused considerable comment in Washington.

"Petinaud, who is French-speaking," said the congressman, "is on vacation. He acted as a liaison man between the American delegation and NATO headquarters, taking and bringing messages."

THIS WOULD involve trips back and forth from the Hotel Continental in downtown Paris, where the delegation stayed, to NATO headquarters on the west side near the Bois de Boulogne.

This task is usually performed by the French-speaking

REP. HAYS

He Worked For His Expenses. ing drivers permanently attached to the U. S. mission to NATO.

"He worked for us for his expenses on this trip," Hays said, "and got no other remuneration."

"We have nothing to hide," Hays said.

"I told the House speaker before we left that Ernest was coming and that a great many other members knew about it."

Hays was angered by a Washington report that an unnamed congressman had suggested Petinaud went along to hand around drinks.

"That's ridiculous," he said. "Number one, I don't drink. Number two, we didn't have a bar."

Hays was asked about suggestions that criticism may have stemmed from the fact that Petinaud is a Negro.

"I don't want to talk about that," he said. "Ernest has been hurt enough already."

The delegates to the NATO meeting are on their way home.

Gen. Shoup Hails Effort To End War

President Places Wreath At Tomb In Arlington Cemetery

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy, himself a Navy combat veteran today honored hundreds of thousands of Americans who died in war and more than 22 million living veterans.

The President led the nation's 10th Veterans Day celebration by laying a wreath at the Tomb of the Unknowns in Arlington National Cemetery.

The ceremony was held at 11 a. m. (EST), the hour the guns stopped firing along World War I's Western Front just 45 years ago.

Gen. David M. Shoup, retiring Marine commandant who won the Medal of Honor in World War II, was chosen to deliver the chief address after Kennedy laid the traditional wreath before an honor guard from all the services.

In his brief prepared speech, Shoup deplored that although man has made great strides in science and space he "has not yet learned to live in enduring peace with his fellow men."

But, the Marine leader cautioned: "We cannot practice the deception that somehow, without alertness and conscious effort on our part, an everlasting panacea may develop which will abolish for all time man's oldest plague—war."

Shoup said "the invisible spirits of these thousands of gallant Americans" buried in Arlington have this hope:

"That some day there will be a meeting at the summit which shall become as everlastingly important to humanity as the Sermon on the Mount."

Once known as Armistice Day because it commemorated the end of World War I, the holiday was broadened in 1954 to honor those who fought in all the nation's wars.

According to official figures, there are 22,127,000 living U.S. war veterans—including 23 men in their 90s who fought in the Indian wars of the West.

Kennedy, who still suffers the effects of a back injury he suffered in the Pacific in World War II, planned to come to Arlington from a weekend in the country.

Car Injuries Take Airman

Robert Lucas, 20, Dies In Washington

A Midland area serviceman died Saturday at 6:45 p. m. at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington of injuries suffered Oct. 26 in a car accident at Plattsburg, N. Y.

Airman 2C Robert Andrew Lucas, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lucas of Fairview, former residents of Midland Heights, was returning to his base at Plattsburg the morning of Oct. 26, when his car slammed head-on into a tree. He apparently fell asleep at the wheel. The car was demolished. He was removed to Walter

Watch On Cuba

Coast Guard Patrols Caribbean

By JOE MCGOWAN JR.,
Associated Press Staff Writer

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A slow-moving, unarmed Coast Guard patrol plane defied guns trained on it by Cuban militiamen and scored a major propaganda victory over the Fidel Castro regime recently.

Photographs taken by the crew of the twin-engine amphibious plane showed the world a Cuban raiding party kidnapping 19 refugees from Anguilla Cay, a desolate British island 40 miles off Cuba's north coast.

Photos showed a Russian-built helicopter on the ground and two Russian-made PT-type boats speeding from the island with the refugees aboard. One photo showed three men in one boat with their automatic rifles aimed at the U.S. aircraft.

Catching the Cubans in the daylight raid is regarded by the Coast Guard's Miami Air Station as the most exciting thing that has happened since Castro came to power.

To handle the assignment, the Coast Guard has siphoned off men and equipment from its stations around the world and added them to the command of the 7th Coast Guard District, headquartered in Miami.

The district has become the largest Coast Guard operation in the world, said Comdr. Bay.

James Dillon, Ten high-wing Albatross amphibians, capable of land or sea operation, and three helicopters operate from the air station at Dinner Key.

This newsman and photographer Earl Shugars went along recently on Patrol Charlie, a 1,000-mile, 8-hour flight.

Lt. Comdr. W. K. Cooper guided the chubby Albatross aloft in a spray of salt water and leveled off at 500 feet, maximum altitude for the entire flight. Cruising speed was 140 knots.

At 500 feet, you can tell a shark from a porpoise, or a pleasure boat from a raiding party, but you're high enough to scan a wide stretch of ocean.

The plane flew south of the Cuban port of Caibarien, where the exile group Commandos L once attacked the Russian merchant ship Baku. The plane turned eastward, keeping just outside the three-mile limit.

At 10:50 a. m., co-pilot Lt. (jg.) E. W. la Croix Jr., sighted two small boats, a few miles east of Cay Lobo lighthouse. The plane dropped to about 50 feet and circled the boats, which were quickly identified as Cuban fishing vessels.

It was late afternoon when the Albatross waddled up the ramp to its parking place in Biscayne Bay.

Split Grows On Reform

Vatican Council Debates Retirement For Prelates

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Bishops at the Vatican Ecumenical Council argued anew today over reform of the Roman Curia and split sharply on a new issue: whether aged bishops should be forced to resign their sees.

Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York, alluding to a flareup that occurred in the council Friday when a German cardinal called for basic reform of the curia's Holy Office, told the 2,300 council fathers that they had no power to propose modifications or corrections in curia procedures.

"We can only make suggestions and recommendations," he was paraphrased as saying by council press spokesmen.

The curia is the church's administrative organ.

A number of prelates at today's meeting in St. Peter's Basilica called for mandatory retirements after the age of 75 for the general well-being of individual dioceses and the Church as a whole. Other council fathers raised strong objections, claiming some bishops would have no means of support and no place to go.

The question of curia reform and the suggestion for bishop retirement provisions came as the prelates resumed debate, after a weekend recess, on a draft schema on "Bishops and Diocesan Government."

RINGWOOD, N.J. (AP) — Work crews today begin the dangerous task of trying to recover the body of a youth who was hurled to the bottom of an abandoned mine shaft in an earth slide.

Police said the victim, Harry Van Dunk, 15, of Ringwood, was playing with two friends Sunday near the rim of a slope leading to the shaft when the earth, loosened by rains, began to slide. The other youths, Aaron Milligan, 11, and Randall Milligan, 13, scrambled to safety.

Van Dunk was thrown backward and down the 100-foot shaft. Police estimated he was buried by 200 tons of muck.

You Should Visit The Schools

American Education Week began today in schools here and in other district communities, with the theme "Education Strengthens The Nation".

During the week, parents will have the opportunity of seeing education in action on a local level through visitation periods set up in various classrooms.

AMERICAN EDUCATION Week was inaugurated in 1921 by the National Education Association and the American Legion to call public attention to the importance of education in a democracy and to remind each citizen that good schools are, to a very large degree, his or her personal responsibility. The U. S. Office of Education and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers joined in the program in 1922 and 1938, respectively.

As important as education was back in 1921 when the "week" was launched, this importance has increased manifold over the years as our educational system has expanded on all fronts. And with the technological demands of today and the demands that the future will bring there is no time to sit back and rest on our laurels.

East Liverpool and district residents have a tremendous investment in school property as they keep digging deep into their pockets in an effort to provide the facilities which can assure their children the best possible education. They can be justly proud of what has been accomplished to date.

EDUCATION, however, is more than a matter of dollars and cents. It is a matter of personal interest in your youngster and your neighbor's youngster. Seeing that your children get to school on time day after day is only the beginning of your responsibility.

A parent should be well versed in what Johnny is doing, both academically and in an extra-curricular sense. Only through such knowledge can he or she hope to supply the helping hand which is needed from time to time.

American Education Week affords an excellent opportunity to acquire this more complete picture.

Visit the schools, talk with your children's teachers and, in general, display the broadened interest which is certain to advance the educational program in your community.

Is Your Car Ready For Winter

With winter driving just around the corner, it's time once more to have a thorough mechanical checkup of your car.

A news release from the Columbiana County Motor Club reminded of the problems that the average motorist faces when taking to the highway.

The motor club's statistics in this case concern themselves with the Veterans Day weekend which will come to an end tonight, but they contain a lesson applicable to most weekends.

These figures should serve as food for thought for the motorist: The motor club estimates that 33 cars have or will break down every 60 seconds during the 72-hour period which began Saturday and that a total of 156,000 cars have or will require emergency services for such maladies as flat tires, battery failure and electrical problems.

Of the total emergency road service calls during the weekend, it was estimated that the county motor club and its affiliated clubs will handle more than 18,700.

To counteract such emergencies, why not have your mechanic give speedy attention to your car's safety devices — such as tires, headlights, brakes, windshield wipers and steering.

There's no time like the present to prepare for the driving problems that the immediate future will bring.

Viet Nam's Problems

WASHINGTON
The generals in South Viet Nam solved one set of problems when they threw out President Ngo Dinh Diem and his troublesome brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, both of whom were killed. But there are others.

The brothers, after nine years in power, never solved them. Now it's the turn of the generals who are running the country. Will they be able to:

Steer it in a democratic direction? Diem didn't. His was a dictatorship. Wage successful war against the Communists? Diem didn't. Avoid conflicts, intrigues, jealousies, explosions? Diem didn't.

Will the generals, through reforms and programs of benefit, be able to give the masses of Viet Nam a reason for caring who wins? Diem didn't. The mass of the 17 million Vietnamese live in enormous and primitive poverty.

Buddhists make up 70 per cent of the population. Roman Catholics 10 per cent. Catholic Diem repressed the Buddhists. Will the Buddhists try to retaliate against Catholics now for what Diem did? It's a haunting possibility.

Diem began his repressions in May when his government troops, firing on a Buddhist demonstration in Hue, killed nine people. The Buddhists had been complaining that Diem was discriminating against them.

This could not be blamed on the Catholic Church. In the tortured and gory months that followed the May shootings, Pope Paul VI expressed "apprehension and anguish" over the situation.

But the shootings brought the Buddhists' complaints to a head. They demanded improved social and economic status.

And then, as if he had listened to a voice coming to him over more than 400 years, a 73-year-old Buddhist priest, Quang Duc, drenched in gasoline, lit a match and burned himself to death in protest against Diem's policies.

In England 400 years ago, Catholic Queen Mary set out to repress the Protestants. One of their leaders, Bishop Hugh Latimer, was condemned to death by burning at the stake.

As he walked to his death at Oxford in 1555 he said "we shall this day light such a candle, by God's grace, as shall never be put out." It wasn't. When the Protestants regained power, they persecuted the Catholics.

The burning monk in Viet Nam shocked the world, pointed up for all to see as perhaps nothing else could the dilemma of the Buddhists, and encouraged other Buddhists to sacrifice themselves, too.

Seven of them made candles of themselves before the generals devastated Diem and his brother Nov. 1.

The Vietnamese people never have known democracy. They moved from French colonialism into Diem's dictatorship. Since they never had a chance to practice it, it can't mean to them what it does to those who grew up under it.

It can be no surprise then if the generals ignore the democratic road and operate as a dictatorship. If so, there can be no surprise if the country sinks into chaos under the weight of new repressions and power struggles.

Since the people are relieved to be free from Diem, the generals for a while at least are likely to have the country behind them and be able to fight a good war against the Communist guerrillas.

At a news conference in September, President Kennedy said: "We are for those things which help win the war." He was fed up with Diem. The generals looked like a fresh start.

This explains why the Kennedy administration, within seven days of the coup, recognized Viet Nam's provisional military government and why it hesitates so much in recognizing Latin American military coups which crush democratic regimes.

But victory in the field against the Communists is not final victory. The Communists in North Viet Nam will try other methods, promising always a better life to the masses of Viet Nam.

The new government in Viet Nam, even if it wins the fighting war, will have to find an answer to offset the Communist promises. The answer lies in programs of benefit to give the masses a reason for not choosing communism.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: We had a post-election jolt here. Our school board resigned en masse after voters in the district turned down a proposal to keep schools in operation.

What made the resignation sensational was the fact no one knew it was coming. But darned if it doesn't make sense. Let me quote from the official statement:

"Whereas, fewer than half the handful of voters who took the trouble to vote on Nov. 5 showed confidence in our stewardship of this school district, we construe this as a vote of no-confidence in the board as constituted.

"Whereas, as members of the board serving our fellow citizens without pay we cannot be expected to accept this rebuke in the spirit of officials who fight for their places on the public payroll, we do hereby resign as a group.

"We do this in the belief that voters are entitled to be served by a board in harmony with their views and that the outcome of the Nov. 5 vote attests to the absence of harmony between the Nov. 5 majority and this board.

We are mindful that school boards in the past have weathered similar rebukes and have bounced back asking for more. We don't see it that way. We think when the people have spoken they should be heard. We think they should be taken at their word, because otherwise what would be the use of voting?

"With these things in mind we respectfully decline to cope with the consequences of the majority decision on Nov. 5. We wish our successors luck as they take up their responsibility we are relinquishing. We tried. We failed. We are not going to wear out our welcome by hanging around."

My pals at the court house tell me this has thrown the legal beagles into a tizzy. They don't know what happens next. I am confident they will think of something, though. They always have.

This always has been my idea of how to handle this situation.

I've always felt this was one of the virtues of parliamentary government — this practice of putting a new team on the field when the old one no longer commands confidence.

As Some Frenchmen See Us

By Barrett Mc Gurn

During the last days of September and the first part of October 31 Frenchmen, members of the French Association for the Atlantic Alliance, toured the Eastern Seaboard and the Middle West coping with taxicab drivers and waitresses, trying to buy postage stamps from hotel desk clerks, listening to sober discussion of Franco-American amity and, in general, testing whether the great alliance going back to the Marquis de Lafayette and the battlefield of Yorktown can long endure.

Only one of the group had set foot in the United States before. Some had doubted to the last minute that they wanted to come at all. (Notable in that category was a former prefect of a French department, a sort of governor of a state, one with a position which is peculiarly well designed to foster chauvinism and to discourage later-life voyages of discovery.)

Most were average middle-class business men, heads of enterprises neither too big nor too small.

In the United States the group found the vermillion rug unrolled. David Rockefeller showed off his suite as president of the Chase Manhattan Bank. Dr. Henry Kissinger, the theorist of nuclear war, made the visitors welcome at the Harvard Center for International Affairs.

Adm. Harold Page Smith, NATO's Supreme Allied Commander Atlantic, opened the doors at his Norfolk, Va., headquarters. Ford showed off River Rouge.

To a man, the American hosts did it up brown.

ENTHUSIASM is a French virtue and much was evident as the group left for home. One man pledged that he would address no fewer than three Rotary Clubs in Paris and Pierre Emanuelli, leader of the group, underlined what that meant.

"If I may say so," said Mr. Emanuelli whose Italian-sounding name makes him no less a 100 per cent Frenchman. "Rotary means more in France. It is very hard to get into. The top 60 or 70 belong everywhere."

What did the Frenchmen think of America? Here are the pluses, the neutral points and the minuses. Mr. Emanuelli did the sum-up.

New York, that city of stupendous heights and of glittering marvels. The Frenchmen's word for New York: "fascinating."

Everywhere they turned the travelers found art galleries crowded. What did they make of that museophilia? "They liked America because Americans go to museums."

"All of us" wanted to go to Greenwich Village (and did). Almost all went to O. Henry's. On Sunday we heard the folk singers. We liked the St. Germaine des Pres (student quarter, Left Bank) atmosphere. We found it charming and authentic. But we smiled at the dress (existentialist black sweaters and beat blue jeans of the Paris of 15 years ago.) We found it a little out of date. We had the feeling of being grandfathers."

"We were very impressed with the special welcome we received in the Harlem section. Many friends had told us that we can't go to Harlem but we found it was easy. We went to hear Baby Grant and Mary Lou Williams, the pianist, and to eat in the restaurant next to Count Basie's."

"One of our members told David Rockefeller that if capitalism has such good taste it has a great future. Mr. Rockefeller had a very beautiful Cezanne in his office. And such paintings of good taste through the rest of the (Chase Manhattan building) Very beautiful Japanese and German works. Very modern."

"We were surprised you could eat so cheaply."

"I won't speak about Franco-American amity. There was (all) too much evidence that it is a reality. But on whether there is any American desire for hegemony—there is none. We were very sure of that. We will always be allies. And we were never challenged on the subject of the bomb." (President de Gaulle's determination to get the atomic weapons for France despite official American disapproval.)

TO FRENCHMEN accustomed to dragging on at work to 7 or even 8, the 5 o'clock quitting time and long American evening was as delightful an idea as it was quaint.

Paying 10 cents in a machine for eight cents worth of stamps astonished them. "It may not be logical but we would walk eight blocks to find a Post Office. We just resented that."

"People would answer very coldly (at the hotel desks). Like for those postage stamps. When you'd say, 'Excuse me, I'd like some stamps,' the woman wouldn't even look up. She'd say, 'There's a machine there.' We're not used to that."

"We disliked the coffee. We'd always ask, 'Have you found any real (strong) coffee?' No one ever did."

"We were never proposed (offered) any fresh fruit. No apples, no bananas, no grapes," for dessert.

At the Ford River Rouge plant, "There were papers and cigarette butts on the floor, but we were impressed with the importance, the size of the factory."

"A 40-minute wait for a meal in drug stores!" was a major source of annoyance.

Whimpering Liberals

By Raymond Moley

Just What Is True 'Individualism'?

Edmund Wilson, noted literary critic, writer extraordinary and friend of famous novelists, has written a new book for the autumn trade. It is "The Cold War and the Income Tax: A Protest."

The first sentence is: "Between the year 1946 and the year 1955, I did not file any income tax returns."

This was not because of deliberate civil disobedience, as in the case of Thoreau. It was because of incredible ignorance of the law and carelessness.

Then follows a self-pitying tale of domestic troubles and financial mismanagement. We are told at great length of Wilson's legal struggles after the Internal Revenue Service caught up with him.

The bureaucrats whom he berates, it seems, were doing what they are paid for. Finally, a settlement was made which permitted him to liquidate the debt from what he earns over and above his living expenses.

The polemic, however, is largely devoted to the extravagance of government and its use of legal power to collect taxes.

Wilson ends with this: "Our country has become today a huge blundering power unit controlled more and more by bureaucracies whose rule is making it more and more difficult to carry on the tradition of American individualism."

I agree with those words, but I have a different concept of the word "individualism." For to me this nation is based upon the paramount individual, but that individual has delegated to his government the power to protect one individual against the trespass of other individuals. Wilson apparently believes that an individual of such distinction as himself should enjoy unusual liberty to do as he pleases.

The cream of the jest is that Wilson now cries out against a system of government which he, throughout his working life until his conflict with the law, actively anticipated and eagerly promoted. He calls himself "a former Leftist."

He was an associate editor of the New Republic from 1926 to 1931 when that periodical was crying out for more government intervention in the individual's private life and affairs.

In 1932 he voted the Communist ticket because he was stupid enough to believe that Lenin's objective was to liquidate the state. Lenin was dead at that time, and Stalin was liquidating everything but the government he controlled.

Then Wilson voted socialist as long as he could, but remained a dedicated socialist. Apparently he failed to see that the liberal superstate which he was promoting all that time would inevitably end in a bureaucratic state and the extinction of individual liberty.

Presumably he ignored the warnings over the last 30 years of people just as distinguished as he was, but more perceptive, who predicted exactly what he has now recognized and what Tocqueville wrote 130 years ago.

In a long passage he examines the Kennedy budget for 1963-1964 and finds that the vast expenditures therein demanded would compel every effort to collect revenue that the law allows. But that he still is the liberal is shown by his espousal of all sorts of civil outlays.

He attributes all the evil to military expenditures. If he had taken the trouble to examine the budgets over the last 10 years, he would have found that civil, including welfare, expenditures have increased several times as fast as those of the military.

The biggest increase in the bureaucracy in that time has been in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. And that threat to fiscal solvency and individual liberty is just as great as that of the military.

He should read Prof. John Jewkes' account of what happened under the socialist regime of Clement Attlee, when welfare was rampant and military expenditures were insignificant.

Mr. Wilson's book was reviewed enthusiastically in the New York Herald Tribune by Gore Vidal, also a literary figure.

After admitting that Wilson was "a bit of a dope" for failing to file his income tax returns, Vidal has nothing but praise for Wilson's polemic.

Vidal has been even more of a zealot for liberal causes than Wilson. In 1960 he bitterly attacked Nixon and supported Kennedy. He also ran for Congress as a Kennedy man.

Vidal notes Wilson's final conclusion: "This country... is no longer any place for me." This, Vidal says, "is a stunning indictment of us all." It's not an indictment of "us all," but of Wilson and Vidal.

Joe Louis had none of the advantages of these two liberals. He was caught, too, not because he tried to hide anything but because he didn't have the money to pay. But he didn't blame his country, not threaten to run away from it. He fought at his trade, well after fighting was a threat to his life, to pay what he owed under the law.

Coffee Price Break

By Richard Spang

Coffee is perhaps the most controversial of all commodities. When the price goes up or down, the housewife immediately notices the change.

High coffee prices in 1954 precipitated boycotts by housewives in the United States. But the sensitivity works both ways. With the price of coffee above $1 a pound in the early '50s, Sen. Gillette, D-Iowa, as head of a Senate subcommittee, had been carrying on studies aimed at reducing the price. Brazilians, confused by a similarity of names, responded by boycotting a certain U.S. razor blade.

The price of coffee probably is going up after the first of the year. Recent rises in price to institutions indicate an increase in prices to retailers within three or four months. Retailers most certainly will pass along the price rises to consumers.

THE NEW BOOSTS are expected to restore price cuts made a year ago. Major coffee roasters on Oct. 10, 1962, reduced wholesale prices by 4 cents a pound to a 13-year low. Half of that cut was taken back last March.

According to the International Coffee Agreement staff, the price increase is unnecessary. A spokesman charges that "market manipulators" are using drought and fire damage to coffee trees in Brazil as an excuse for the price rise. But Brazil is reported to have 60 million 132-pound bags of coffee in storage and its quota under the Agreement is only 18 million bags.

As a matter of fact, Brazil's restraint in late October firmed up prices in the green coffee market and resulted in gains in coffee futures of as much as 1 cent a pound in early November.

Having allowed very heavy shipments in October, Brazil, the world's largest coffee grower, imposed strict controls over exports for November and December so as not to exceed its fourth-quarter quota.

Odd Facts

Nights gradually become longer than days in the northern hemisphere after the autumnal equinox. As the earth moves in its orbit, its northern half begins to tilt increasingly away from the sun.

The knights of King Arthur's famous Round Table were Lancelot, Galahad, Gawaine, Kay, Modred, Bedivere, Gareth, Geraint, Bala, Percival, Bors, Pelleas, and Tristram.

The first woman to serve in the Senate was Mrs. Rebecca Felton, appointed by the Governor of Georgia in 1922 to serve in the place of Sen. Thomas E. Watson, deceased.

International trade, coffee is the second most important commodity in the world, exceeded only by petroleum. It is cultivated in 70 countries, and in nine of these it accounts for more than 50 per cent of all foreign exchange earnings.

From World War II until 1958 the United States steadfastly refused even to talk about Latin American commodity price problems. Under the impetus of the Brazilian plan for Operation Pan America (the parent of the Alliance for Progress) — and of the rocks which were thrown at Vice President Nixon — a thaw began in U.S. attitudes and we agreed to participate in a study of problems of coffee.

In the Punta del Este conference of August 1961, action to stabilize commodity prices was enshrined as part of the Alliance for Progress.

One result was the International Coffee Agreement worked out last year. U.S. participation in the Agreement was ratified in treaty form by the Senate on May 21, 1963 by a vote of 89 to 20. Supporters of the treaty said the fact that a decrease in the price of coffee of 1 cent a pound results in an estimated loss of $79 million in the foreign exchange earnings of the 35 African, Asian, and Latin American coffee-growing nations was ample reason for stabilizing the world price. Opponents said the treaty would "gouge the American consumer" for the benefit of special interest groups.

They traveled from Washington in an Air Force plane assigned to them.

ONE OF them is Sen. Estes Kefauver's widow, listed as an observer. Other members of the group are Leslie C. Arends, R-Ill.; Ross Bass, D-Tenn.; Charles Chamberlain, R-Mich.; Wilfred K. Denton, D-Ind.; John Lindsay, R-N.Y.; and Mendel L. Rivers, D-S.C.

They also have a staff with them, including two women from Hays' office.

The representatives will be guests of the British-American parliamentary group at a luncheon today and attend the opening of the House of Commons tomorrow. They are to fly back to Washington Wednesday.

THE DELEGATION, Petinaud included, is staying at the Hilton, London's newest luxury hotel. Hays has a suite and other members have single or twin-bedded rooms.

A hotel spokesman said Hays' suite normally rents for 25 pounds a day ($70), and the others are in "superior" rooms normally renting at between 8 and 12 pounds ($22.40 and $33.60) a day.

However, he said, "They are paying a lot less" because the hotel is giving them a special group rate.

In Washington, the Air Force said it had no control over who made such trips. A spokesman said the congressmen involved were regarded as responsible for the makeup of the party.

Rep. Hays said in each of the nine years he has attended the NATO sessions the U.S. delegation has taken along some person from Washington to perform the job which Petinaud did.

"We could have hired someone in Paris, a Frenchman, I suppose," Rep. Hays said.

"It would have cost as much in the long run. Maybe we could have found someone and maybe not and maybe he would have been able to speak English. This job has always been given to someone who would work on his own time for expenses and get a trip to Europe out of it.

"You pick someone who can get the time off and can do the job. Every committee, as far as I know, has someone on its staff to do this kind of messenger service."

No New Leads Found In Salem Entry Check

SALEM — Police Chief Martin Lutsch Jr. said today there are no new leads on last Thursday's burglaries at Dean's Jewelry and the Daniel Smith Jewelry Store, both located on downtown State St.

Lutsch was in Midland Saturday checking with police about an auto seen in the city the night of the burglaries. The auto, in which three men were riding, bore Pennsylvania license plates.

Commenting on criticism leveled at police because of the large number of burglaries in the area recently, Lutsch declared his force is understaffed. Lutsch said he has been before City Council on numerous occasions seeking additional men, but no action has been taken.

reported. The woman said she owned the car, but was asleep in the back seat when it crashed, officers said.

The woman said she emerged from an East End club and went to sleep in her auto. The next thing she knew, it had crashed near the state line, she told police.

A Great Dane dog was killed in another mishap Saturday at 3:40 p. m. on W. 8th St. at Edwards Ave., police said.

The dog, owned by Mr. and Mrs. William Shaw, 973 W. 8th St., darted into the path of a 1959 sedan driven by Bernard P. Kozora, 28, of 1672 Etruria St., officers said. There was moderate damage to the front of the auto.

Kozora said the Great Dane and another dog crossed the street in front of him. Then, for some unknown reason, the Great Dane darted back into the car's path, he said. Kozora said he applied his brakes, but was unable to avoid hitting the dog.

Kozora's report was corroborated by a witness, George Bradley, 807 McKinnon Ave. Patrolmen Jerry Adkins and Paul Blevins investigated.

4 In Family Hurt In County Crash

Four members of an Alliance family were injured in a two-car crash Sunday at 6 p.m., one of the seven area accidents investigated over the weekend by the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Officers said the mishap on Route 62 four-tenths a mile east of the Stark County line involved cars driven by Louis Gottardi, 76, of Homeworth R. D. 1 and Frederick G. Carpenter, 22, of Alliance.

Gottardi pulled from a side road, crossed two lanes of east-bound traffic and entered the west-bound lane. His car then was hit in the rear by Carpenter's.

CARPENTER suffered contusions of the knees and lacerations of the chin. His wife, Mrs. Shirley Carpenter, 22, had a fractured leg and lacerations and abrasions of the face and of the head.

His two daughters also were hurt. Glenda, 1, had contusions and abrasions of the face and Elizabeth, six-months, had contusions of the head. Another passenger, Hayward Carpenter, 16, of Alliance, was not hurt. All were taken to Alliance City Hospital.

Donald Reidy, 16, of East Palestine struck a dog with his motorcycle Sunday at 5 p.m. on Route 154 two miles east of Route 7, the patrol said.

Reidy and a passenger, Sandra Doughty, 16, of East Palestine were thrown to the highway but escaped injury.

A CAR driven by Brenda Derringer, 21, of Minerva struck a utility pole along Route 164 a mile and a half north of Lisbon Sunday at 11:50 p.m. Officers said her car went off the highway on a curve and then rolled against the pole. She was cited for driving left of center.

John Case, 47, of Warren reported to the patrol that his car was sideswiped by another that continued without stopping Sunday at 12:30 a.m. on Route 7 south of Rogers. He was headed north, he said.

JOHN W. BLAIR, 34, of Wheeling was cited for excessive speed for road conditions after his car rolled over on Route 45 almost a mile south of Route 518 Saturday night at 11:10. He lost control on a curve, officers said.

Cars driven by Teddy W. Wright, 27, of Scio R. D. 2 and Roy Manypenny, Jr., 35, of Dewey Ave. were involved in a crash Saturday at 3:15 p.m. on Route 518 near Morgan's Monument. Manypenny turned into a private drive and was hit in the right rear by Wright.

WRIGHT suffered a bump on the head. Manypenny was cited for making an improper left turn.

A car driven by Edith Marie Carlson, 43, of Columbiana was sideswiped by one driven by Ruth Marie Hosack, 39, of East Palestine Saturday at 4:34 p.m. on Route 517 about four and a half miles east of Lisbon.

The patrol investigated a total of 10 accidents over the weekend. Two were injury accidents in which five were hurt.

Plane Plunge Probe Starts

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Investigators are trying to find out what ripped one engine from a four-engine jet airliner carrying 128 persons, forcing an emergency landing.

Pilot Mel H. French of Huntington Station, L.I., said the Eastern Airlines DC8 ran into the worst turbulence he had ever encountered shortly after takeoff from Houston Saturday.

Flying at 20,000 feet, the plane suddenly was caught in a violent downdraft and dropped nearly three miles in about 12 seconds.

Passengers with seat belts unfastened were pushed against the ceiling where they remained helpless until the pilot regained control and leveled off around 6,500 feet.

Dr. M. C. Elroy of Philadelphia said he fell back into his seat by a window just in time to see the wing vibrating violently and the nearest engine rip away. The starboard engine struck the tail stabilizer, denting it, and disappeared.

A search was under way for the engine about 45 miles southwest of Houston.

The plane was en route from New York to Mexico City. The incident occurred about 10 minutes out of Houston.

Capt. French said he landed at Barksdale Air Force Base here, because of its crash-landing equipment. Shreveport is about 225 miles northeast of Houston.

The plane landed after circling the base about 30 minutes to use up fuel.

More than two dozen were sent to the base and Shreveport hospitals for examination. Another airliner took the other passengers to their destinations.

Gem Robbers Again Strike In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — A $200,000 gem theft was reported to police Sunday night, two days after the nation's biggest jewel robbery—a badly bungled $3-million stickup here.

Real estate man Emanuel Simon and his wife told police jewelry valued at about $200,000 was taken from a bedroom closet in their East Side Manhattan apartment during the weekend.

The loot included a 24-carat diamond ring that Simon said was worth $35,000. He said he believes almost all of the missing pieces were insured. They belonged to Mrs. Simon.

Police, seeking a more specific figure for what they estimate was a $3-million gem robbery Friday, have asked the victimized jeweler to show up at a precinct station today to give an accurate accounting of the loot.

A band of gunmen, two in police uniforms and three wearing Halloween masks, stopped a jewelry messenger service car carrying six unarmed guards and relieved them of gems plus eight gold bars weighing 15 pounds each.

The messenger service station wagon, found abandoned a few hours later, contained most of the loot, including the gold bars.

Mrs. Doris Ann Barrett, 27, of 2034 Ohio Ave. was injured in an incident on Ohio Ave. Sunday night at 6:02 and her husband later was cited on a charge of assault and battery, police reported.

Patrolman L. E. Richard reported he was dispatched to Mrs. Barrett's home on a report that "a man was beating

The officer said City Hospital authorities later notified police Mrs. Barrett had come to the hospital for treatment of a forehead laceration, accompanied by her husband.

CAKE TO SPARE on her 97th birthday. That was the happy situation that confronted Mrs. Catherine M. Reed when she marked the milestone Saturday at the Cummings Nursing Home. Born in 1866 in New Brighton, Mrs. Reed resided with a son, Michael W. Reed of Dresden Ave., before moving to the rest home two years ago. She has resided in East Liverpool since 1909. ## Miss Shelia Lee Stewart And Thurman Joy Wed

The LaCroft Church of the Nazarene was the scene of the marriage of Miss Shelia Lee Stewart and Thurman Joy Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Stewart, 115 Kountz Ave., Wellsville, and her husband is the son of Mrs. Ines Joy, 222 Broadway, East Liverpool, and Blaine Joy of Bloomfield R.D. 1.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Noel Shirkey.

The bride wore a white chiffon ballerina-length dress designed and made by her mother, who also made her shoulder-length veil. She carried a Colonial cascade bouquet of white mums and orchids. For something old, she wore a wristwatch, which was her mother's wedding gift from her father, and carried a white handkerchief of blue lace borrowed from Miss Mary Carroll, a friend.

Mrs. Violet Farnsworth, a friend of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a blue dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was of pink and white carnations.

Mrs. Stewart wore a royal blue lace ballerina dress. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a gray and silver sheath with matching accessories. Their corsages were pink carnations.

Denny Barker, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man. A reception followed in the social rooms for members of the immediate families and friends. The bridal table was decorated with arrangements of autumn flowers centered with a two-tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple.

The couple attended East Liverpool High School. The bridegroom is employed at Hillcrest Orchards.

They are residing in an apartment on Broadway.

The club, which had met regularly in the church now will meet Tuesday and Thursday nights from 7 to 9 in the downstairs of the First Methodist Church at Main and 5th Sts.

First meeting in the new quarters is Tuesday night, they said.

Players' Unit Slates Drama

The first attempt at drama will be made by the Liberty Players next week when they present "The Glass Menagerie" by Tennessee Williams.

The production will be presented two nights, Nov. 22 and 23, at the Liberty Theater in Wellsville.

The last production was a comedy, "Come Blow Your Horn", at Westgate School.

The two-act play concerns Amanda Wainfield, a faded remnant of Southern gentility, who lives in poverty in a dingy St. Louis apartment. Her family includes a son, Tom, and a daughter, Laura.

She strives to give meaning and direction to her life and those of her children, but her methods are insufficient.

There are only four in the cast. Nila Jo Bailey portrays Amanda Wainfield. Barbara Radeka is the daughter, Laura, and Tom Wainfield, who narrates the play as it progresses, is portrayed by R. V. Smith. Harry Rose is cast as Jim O'Connor, a gentleman caller.

Martha Wilson is the director. Committee chairmen are Howard Guildoo, production and stage manager; Mary Carroll, properties; Rose Ann Creaturo and Carol Ross, makeup; Elizabeth McNicol, prompter; Shirley Andrews, tickets; Shirley Rose, programs; Dorothy Dick, music, lights, and sound effects, and Joyce McLaughlin, publicity.

The tickets have been reduced to $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. They may be obtained at the box office or by calling LE 2-3325.

Lawrenceville Group Plans Skating Parties

Plans to sponsor a public skating party at the Melody Lanes Rink at Hookstown each Thursday from 7 to 10 p.m., starting Nov. 21, were completed at a special meeting of the Lawrenceville volunteer fire department Sunday afternoon at the fire hall.

Plans also were completed for a public auction sale Saturday evening at the fire station. Leo Wilson of East Liverpool was given a contract to install a new furnace at the station at a cost of $335.

Lawrence Haun, vice president, and Junior Keener, secretary, who had submitted their resignations at the meeting, Thursday, reconsidered and decided to stay in their respective offices.

Of the famous women in history with an immoderate love for fine jewels, three stand out — Cleopatra, Empress Eugenie, and Queen Elizabeth. Many of us may recall that the beautiful Queen of the Nile developed her own emerald mines to ensure an adequate supply of that gem, and of course, Bonaparte's Empress is almost infamous in her jewel collecting. However, not too many associate the Virgin Queen with fine gems, which is a great error, since she favored dresses literally covered, inch by inch, with precious gems and pearls, and every finger on her hand bore a ring of some description.

When Elizabeth was pleased with a court personage, she would remove one of her numerous rings, and make a gift of it. Cleopatra had a similar habit in her court, but her rings were emeralds carved with her image. Numerous other monarchs gave rings and jewels as gifts on state occasions, or as a mark of special favor. They were also popular as New Year's gifts, especially with King Henry VI who in 1445 bestowed jeweled rings on all his nobles.

Even today, the gift of a ring, is momentous. Whether it is the betrothal ring, or a sparkling cocktail ring given by a husband to his wife during later years of marriage, the giving of it is an occasion calling for candlelight and soft music, and all the attendant joyousness such a loving and thoughtful present warrants.

If this is to be your year to please someone close to you with a lovely ring, do visit us soon and see our fine selection. We will be happy to explain quality of gems to you, and aid you in making a wise and fashionable choice.

Girl, Boy Found As Toledo Area Car Fire Victims

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Burned beyond recognition, the bodies of a boy and girl were found in the rear seat of a parked automobile in a wooded area 14 miles southwest of here Sunday. Detectives were still trying today to learn the reason for their deaths.

The bodies were identified tentatively by Lucas County sheriff's deputies as those of Edward Mitchell, 19, of Liberty Township, and Mary Caldwell, 17, of Toledo. The couple left their homes about 7 o'clock Saturday night to go to a drive-in theater.

The car was owned by the boy's mother, Mrs. Iva Rumsey, who told deputies the two had been missing from their home overnight when three boys who had gone to the woods for target-shooting found the bodies.

Deputies said there were signs of a bloody struggle about 130 yards from the parked car. They said also that a siphon hose was found near the car's gas tank and apparently was used to douse the vehicle with gasoline before it was set afire.

The place where the car was found often is used as a lover's lane, a target-shooting and hunting spot, and for dumping rubbish.

Metal Society To Meet

STEUBENVILLE — W. C. Weltman, manager of the automotive section of the sales development division of the Aluminum Co. of America in Pittsburgh, will be guest speaker at a meeting of the Upper Ohio Valley Chapter of the American Society for Metals Tuesday night in the Elks Club. A social hour is set at 6, with dinner at 6:30 and the program at 8.

Gas Fumes Sicken 23 In Columbus Church

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Deadly carbon monoxide fumes escaping from an unvented gas heater poisoned 23 persons during a Baptist church service Sunday night, firemen reported.

The Rev. Claud Wise, 49, told officials that no one in the congregation noticed the fumes until the service ended at 8:30. As the congregation was leaving the basement storeroom where the service was held, two small children passed out. Adults called the emergency squad.

Thief Obtains $55 In Wallet

An East Liverpool woman told police a sneak thief took her wallet containing $55 in cash, a $50 check and miscellaneous papers while her auto was parked in Crook Alley about 2:32 p.m. Sunday.

Mrs. Linda Friess, 1061 Ephriam St., said the valuables were in a wallet which the thief removed from her purse. In addition to the cash and the check, the wallet contained a Social Security card, a driver's license and a nurse's registration card, she said. Most of the papers carry her maiden name of Fitzsimmons as she was married recently, police reported.

Meanwhile, a district woman reported a 12-volt battery was stolen from her 1961 model auto while she attended services at an East End church Sunday night.

She said she parked the auto on a lot at the Boyce Methodist Church while she attended services. When she returned, the battery was missing, Mrs. Clutter said.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Exercise To Feel Buoyantly Alive

A young homemaker, who complained of feeling continually tired, asked the family doctor for a tonic. After checking her over he prescribed—exercise. She was not anemic, she did not need a tonic. What she needed was more physical activity.

Ida Jean Kain

Now this homemaker is astonished at her new energy. At the suggestion of her husband, she joined a gym. She swims and takes calisthenics three afternoons a week. "I've come back to life," she told me happily.

As with many homemakers, she couldn't believe she did not get sufficient exercise. But certain muscle groups get almost no action. Our routine activities and the limited walking we do today simply aren't enough to keep the big muscles of the body in tone.

THE CHANGE in our exercise habits was impressed on me recently when I gave a group of youngsters a lift, only to find they were going all of six blocks! Why didn't they put one foot ahead of the other and get there on their own steam? "We don't like to walk," they chorused.

Walking seems to have gone out of style, more's the pity. Physical exercise is not a factor in our way of life. The result is not only a physical letdown, but increased mental stress and strain.

We cannot have a sense of well-being unless our muscles are in tone. I know this from first-hand experience. In the suburbs where I live there are no sidewalks, and with more and more cars, I found myself hesitant to walk. Well, the less I walked, the less I wanted to. So now I swim a mile each week, a quarter of a mile at a session.

Swimming is delightful exercise, but it still doesn't take the place of walking. Activity in the fresh air is an excellent way to take advantage of the natural responses of the body, to promote well-being and to control weight.

DO YOU REMEMBER our asthmatic who wrote to share his experience with us?

"When the doctor advised me to change my sedentary habits and walk for exercises, I laughed. At that time I couldn't even walk 100 feet without distress."

"Well, I tried. I started by walking two blocks a day, and gradually increased to 10 or 15 blocks. That was eight years ago. I not walk about five miles every day, and I have lost all traces of asthma. Please print this in your column so it may help others to keep in good health."

You don't like to walk? Could you join the Y, or go to a neighborhood gym for exercise or a swim regularly? Could you join a square dance group, or a bowling team? Or tune in to an exercise session on the TV?

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Nursery School Role Evaluated

Will the public school of the future make the nursery school available to all children? The Ford Foundation is financing a series of experiments in a number of public schools to explore such possibility. The Baltimore Public School System already has embarked on the first Dr. Garry Meyers city-wide system to provide nursery schooling for all children.

None will doubt the socializing values to the child from nursery school and kindergarten.

HE LEARNS THERE to get along better with other youngsters of his age, to do with enjoyment what they do and to be at ease out of the sight of his mother; also to acquire many useful motor skills and skills of self-reliance. He learns to listen to directions of his teacher while other children are listening — very useful for him in later years at school.

If his mother works, the child has protection under wise, kind and warm-hearted guidance at nursery school. He may escape here from certain tensions and annoyances of the home. He gets away from TV at least for several hours every school day.

He also may have many more playthings and materials with which to invent and create than he has at home. He is among other children who often listen to good music and to stories read or told, who may be drawing, painting, cutting, pasting and molding with clay.

SUCH ARE the values from nursery school and kindergarten we most often hear applauded, and they are worthy of applause. But how often do we hear about the child's learning to think and reason in nursery school and kindergarten? Yes, we hear and read about some amazing mental exploits "by the children." Yet we don't know how many of the children did them and how many others merely imitated them.

With 15, 20 or 30 children two, three, four or five years old together in a room there may not be as much mental stimulation and achievement as is widely believed.

If your young child had a few playmates of his own age, abundant playthings and parents with the insight of a nursery school and kindergarten teacher, who guide him well, answer kindly all his questions and read to him a great deal, he might gain more in intellectual stimulation and achievement than if he were in school. But perhaps only one out of 500 youngsters have such parents.

IN THE MEANWHILE, the teacher of the nursery school and kindergarten needs to ask herself, "How much intellectual stimulation do all my children get?"

Certainly little children two, three, four and five are capable of far more intellectual achievement than most parents and teachers have believed possible.

My bulletins, "Letting Baby and Tot Learn", "Stimulate Your Child's Imagination" and "A Parent's Prayer", may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

United Fund Sets Dinner Nov. 18

With the success of the countywide campaign for $803,902 guaranteed, the United Funds of Beaver County will hold its annual testimonial dinner Nov. 18 in the Penn Beaver Hotel, sponsored by the firm of Michael Baker Jr., Inc., marking the official tabulations when results will be announced.

Michael Baker Jr., chairman, said that with two more local area groups achieving their quotas last week, with seven out of eight exceeding their goals, "This guarantees success."

After an extension, the Central Beaver Valley Area United Fund reported an additional $1,087 for a grand total of $12,596, or 100.4 per cent of their goal. This is the first time in the five-year history of the Central Valley Fund that the goal has been achieved. At a dinner on Thursday evening, the Beaver Area reported an additional amount to bring its total up to $68,363, or 100.2 per cent of its quota. The Monaca Area, although reporting an additional $2,172, fell slightly short of its goal and concluded its campaign with $75,513, or 97 per cent.

School Officials Hear County Welfare Head

County Supt. James L. McBride, chairman, presided. The group discussed the numerous fund drives during the school year and the possibility of having a survey made for a vocational high school in the county. No official action was taken on either matter, McBride said.

Scout Group To Meet

LISBON — The Shawnee Boy Scout District committee will meet Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at the Old Stone House at Camp McKinley to discuss roundup plans and recruiting of volunteers. Norman Wilhelm, district chairman, will preside.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My 17-year-old daughter is causing me a great deal of grief. It's not her I'm concerned about, it's the unfortunate young fellows who become victims of her beauty and charm.

Loretta takes fiendish delight in making a boy fall in love with her. Then she tosses him aside, first making certain that she has reduced him to nothing. I've seen boys leave our house in tears. Loretta triumphantly has shown me letters from heart-broken young men who can't understand why she has dumped them without warning.

She has a fantastic "love museum" of relics from former sweethearts. It baffles me that she is able to destroy these poor fellows one after the other. I should think the word would get around.

What can I do to straighten her out? No good can come of it.—MOTHER OF A HEARTLESS GIRL.

Dear Mother: Your daughter's destructive personality is a symptom of a serious emotional problem.

The Jezebel is a female counterpart of the Don Juan. Such girls collect hearts the way little boys collect bottle tops.

Unless your daughter gets professional help she may never be capable of a mature relationship with a male.

Uninvited Parents

Dear Ann: I was just called out of the bathtub with the news that "Grandma and Grandpa are here." This is the fourth time they have dropped in this week.

COR. 6TH & ST. CLAIR

My parents are both retired and they are the dearest people you can imagine but it's getting to the point where I can't take it much longer. Sometimes they bring guests with them.

It makes no difference if we are entertaining, sleeping or eating. They come whenever they feel like it. I hate to think of being rude to my own parents but my husband is becoming so irritated that he finds it hard to be civil to them.

Last week he was conducting a business meeting in the library and my father barged right in and sat down.

Please, Ann, tell me what to do about this.—PARENT PROBLEM.

Dear Problem: I'll say it one more time: No one (not even parents) should assume the welcome mat is always out and that a visit any old time is okay.

You should ask your folks to please telephone before they come. If it isn't convenient for you to entertain them, tell them so.

Vacation From Home

Dear Ann: I'm so mad I could spit tacks. I've been married for 14 years to a guy who thinks he is still playing tackle for SMU.

Company Crews Start Inspection Of Water Tanks

A crew of the Kessler Co. of Fremont has started the inspection of Wellsville's million-gallon water storage tanks on the hillside off Highland Ave.

The interior will be inspected to determine how much welding needs to be done. The interior and exterior of the tanks will be cleaned and painted along with the other repairs.

Safety Service Director Fred Baldasare said the tanks were drained to conserve the water. After the pressure dropped in the lines, the city supply was switched directly from the filtration plant. It took about 49 hours to drain the tanks, he said.

After the pressure dropped Saturday, some residents were without water for a brief period. Some had muddy water, caused by the low pressure, he pointed out.

Anyone who had clothes stained by the muddy water during washing may contact the director or water department office to learn how the stains can be removed, Baldasare said.

Street crews are continuing gathering leaves, the director said.

The states of Parana, Santa Besides coffee and wood products, the three states produce most of the country's meat, leather, cotton, beans and rice.

We have six children. The oldest is 12, the youngest is 4. I've never had a cleaning woman, a laundress or help of any kind. After each one of the babies came I went right from the hospital to the laundry room.

I've never had anything resembling a vacation. The kids were always too small to take along or I was pregnant. So my husband took his annual two weeks vacation to visit his folks, without me.

Now I have won a contest prize which is a trip to Dallas for one whole week—expenses paid, even the price of a housekeeper. My husband says no married woman should have entered the contest and if I go it means I'm looking for excitement.

I told him I was going to write to you and accept your advice. Do I go or not?—DELLA.

Dear Della: Go, Girl, Go. If anyone is entitled to a break, you are. You'll love the "Big D." It's a great city.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Veterans' Events Observe Holiday

Memories of places like Belleau Wood, Omaha Beach and the Yalu River came flooding back over the weekend as veterans of two world wars and a "police action" held dinners to mark Veterans' Day — the holiday once known as Armistice Day.

The events, marked by good food, speeches and fellowship, were held by American Legion posts in East End, Wellsville, Glenmoor and Lisbon.

NOV. 11 was Armistice Day, marking the end of World War I, until a few years ago. Then the name was changed as a tribute to the men who served in World War II and others who went to Korea for the "police action" of the U.N. against the Chinese Reds and North Koreans.

Some 150 attended the annual Veterans Day banquet Saturday night at American Legion Post 374 in East End.

Vernon E. Allen of Cleveland, first vice commander of the Ohio American Legion, was guest speaker. Robert Poynter, past county commander, was master of ceremonies.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Al Hayes, first district commander; James Cregar of Post 374, first vice commander of the Columbiana County Legion Council; Mr. and Mrs. William Grate, county sergeant-at-arms, and Mrs. Donald Miller of Alliance, district auxiliary speaker.

ALLEN GAVE a history of the Legion and its objectives. Richard Smith sang two selections, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Dietz.

Mrs. Norma Jean Poynter, county rehabilitation chairman, introduced Mrs. Lois Burdick, county auxiliary president, and Mrs. Dorothy Galloway, Post 374 auxiliary president. Robert Langford, commander, gave the welcome. The speaker and his wife were presented gifts.

Mrs. Poynter presented Mrs. Allen a corsage. Mrs. Langford received a centerpiece. Other guests included Safety Service Director Robert Owen, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McClain, the Rev. Edward Phinn, Miss Mary Phinn, Sgt. Ed Valor, Army recruiter, Chief Kenneth Brooks and Chief Frank Brown, Navy recruiters.

REV. PHINN gave the invocation. Louis Provost gave the benediction. Brooks, first vice commander, said the membership has passed the halfway mark.

Members of the auxiliary served the meal. A dance fol-

Lions Hear Navy Officer

Polaris Sub Role Seen As Deterrent—Not War

"If we ever have to 'push the button', our system will have been a failure because the ballistic missile submarines primarily are to serve as a deterrent to World War III," Cmdr. Donald G. Lambert of Cleveland, head of the Navy's Northeast Ohio recruiting area, told the Lions Club Friday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel.

By mid-1964, the Navy expects to have 41 nuclear subs in service. There are three types — the ballistic missile type, another type designed primarily to destroy surface vessels, and a third known as an anti-sub submarine, the Naval officer explained.

THE POLARIS-carrying subs now have headquarters at Holy Loch, Scotland, but bases are being established in the Pacific, he said.

The newest nuclear subs carry the A-3 Polaris missile and earlier subs are being modified. The A-3 missile has a 2,500-mile range and "phenomenal accuracy," he asserted.

In order to get the maximum utilization out of the expensive vessels, each has two crews and the average cruise is two months — entirely underwater. Each sails to a predetermined point and remains there with a list of pre-assigned targets.

Elaborate precautions are taken to make certain the missiles cannot be fired on the order of one man, he explained.

When a crew returns from a cruise, it spends a month turning the sub over to the next crew and then is flown back to the United States so crewmen can be reunited with their families.

RETURNING the sailors to the U.S. is one of the important steps the Navy takes to retain highly-trained men, Cmdr. Lambert explained. With the highly technical equipment now used in all services, it takes considerable training before a man is prepared. As an example, a specialist will spend two years studying nuclear electronics before being assigned to a sub, he continued.

"The submarine force has the highest morale, greatest promotion rate and the highest enlistment ratio of any branch of the Navy," he said.

Cmdr. Lambert also touched briefly on recruiting, explaining there are eight recruiting districts in the nation and 40 recruiting areas with about 4,000 recruits.

THE NAVY IS trying to avoid taking any men in the draft, believing in quality rather than quantity, the naval aviator said.

The Cleveland area has more recruits per dollar spent and more recruits per recruiter than any other, he said.

Cmdr. Lambert was accompanied by Chief Machinist's Mate Kenneth S. Brooks, local recruiter. They were introduced by Fred Kane, program chairman.

John Smith, president, reminded members of a zone meeting Tuesday night in Lisbon.

Police Spurn Pay Hike DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The Dayton Fraternal Order of Police have rejected an 8 per cent annual pay increase. The FOP here voted 121-36 to turn down the pay boost despite a recommendation calling for acceptance by the policemen's negotiating committee.

200 At Sweet Adelines Fete Honoring Champion Quartet

About 200 attended a party for the Hebertones Quartet of the Sweet Adelines Chapter, recent International champions, Friday night in the social rooms of the Christian Church in Chester.

The group ranked first in the competition with 42 other U. S. and Canadian quartets Oct. 26 at Oakland Calif.

The quartet is comprised of Mrs. Lorinda Harvey, tenor; Miss Norma Jones, baritone; Mrs. Betty Pettibon, lead, and Mrs. Bette Damaska, bass.

The quartet entered over an improvised red carpet and continued to the front of the hall to special lilac-covered chairs.

Mrs. Sonya Rose, chapter president, gave the welcoming address. On behalf of the group, Mrs. Ruth Rinehart, recently crowned "Sweet Adeline of the Year," who also made the trip to California, presented the group with Golden Gate charms.

The quartet sang their contest numbers, "Goody Goody," "In the Garden of Tomorrow," "Do You Ever Get That Feeling in the Moonlight" and "I Wouldn't Trade the Silver in My Mother's Hair."

Glenn Woods, director, who also made the trip, gave an amusing history of the quartet. Hub Rivers of Pittsburgh, one of the group's coaches, spoke.

Guest quartets presented the musical program and included the Debutantes from Sharon.

The Magna Chords of the Carrollton Chapter also sang.

The Colonials from the East Liverpool Barber Shop group, comprised of Bill Brooks, Chuck Brooks, Dale Keddie and Jim Raffle, sang four numbers.

The Sweet Adeline Chorus climaxed the affair by presenting two numbers under the direction of Woods.

The opening featured group singing led by Mrs. Neva Lockes, director of the Carrollton group, with Miss JoAnn Vannoy pianist.

Trophies and gifts received by the winning group were displayed.

Lunch was served by a young adult group of the church. The tables were in an orchid and white color scheme with dolls dressed in orchid and silver candelabras. The centerpiece was a large cake, inscribed "Congratulations Queens of Harmony."

Guests were from Pittsburgh, Youngstown, Euclid, Sharon and Carrollton.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Ladies: When you are measuring shortening for a cake or anything else heat your aluminum measurer (whether it be a measuring cup or that old ice cream dipper, hold it under your hot water faucet for a few minutes until it gets real hot, then—measure your shortening.

You won't have any sticky "goo" in that measuring cup!

The heat (which the aluminum absorbs) will melt the shortening slightly when it touches the cup and it falls into whatever you are mixing.

This also works when dipping or measuring molasses.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I remove stains and mildew spots from my rubber toilet tray with diluted bleach, then soak it in hot water and then rinse it off well.

While it is still soaking in the hot water I put an all-purpose dye in the water and dunk the still-hot tray in the colored water. Any color may be used.

There must be enough colored water to completely cover it. In about a minute you have a nicely tinted tray to match your bathroom decor!

MRS. A. BOROBICHA.

Now, aren't you clever?
HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I keep some vinegar in a bottle labeled "For Cleaning Only."

Vinegar is wonderful for taking off the lime ring in enamel pans. Be sure the vinegar covers the ring. Let stand until it softens the ring. It washes clean, and the pan is like new.

CLARE MEADE.

DEAR HELOISE: For those who make their own boxed pizza and have ever dropped a full can of cheese in one big mess on your masterpiece... then this suggestion can help you.

Just take a scrap of your famous nylon net material and place across the opened can of cheese, fastening it securely with a rubber band. Then sprinkle your pizza. The net controls an even "mist" of cheese. The scrap of net may be used over and over again.

HEATHER MCNEILL.

DEAR HELOISE: For the readers who live in areas where black iron furniture or the legs of other parts of black metal furniture rust... try using black shoe polish to touch up the rough spots or places where the finish comes off. It works.

CLAIRE RUNGE.

LADIES: This will not remove the rust. I suggest you take a piece of tin foil from any package, or the kind that comes in a roll, and wad it up in a ball. Briskly rub the rusted places first, then use this method. We found this works.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Our family likes baked apples. Since my mother-in-law told me to bake them in my muffin tin, I believe that in-laws are worth their weight in gold. Apples have much nourishment.

My muffin tin is a twelve-cup size. Since I bake only six apples at a time, I fill the other cups with water. The steam makes better apples!

In properly fulfilling its specialized responsibilities, an American Industrial Banking Institution has definite obligations to its savings customers, its borrowers, its stockholders, its employees, its community and to society in general.
Industrial banking began in America near the turn of the century. No American Industrial Banking institution, affiliated with American Industrial Bankers Association, has ever caused a single penny loss to any of their savings customers. They have ridden many financial storms and have emerged with their capital structure strong.
Their record for stability and savings safety during the bleak banking days of 1929 to 1934 is one of which we are rightly proud. This was achieved then and is being accomplished now without the aid of federal loans, insurance, subsidies or guarantees. No other type of financial savings association can point to such a record since the turn of the century.

SAVINGS in American Industrial Bankers Association member institutions have grown tremendously during the past decade. Annual statistical reports from A.I.B.A. members show that their savings have increased 25% each year, during the past ten year period.
This is conclusive evidence of the confidence which the public have rightfully placed in SAFE SAVINGS ACCOUNTS with members of A.I.B.A.

householders to sign contracts for unneeded maintenance work or installation of new heating systems.

Some concerns which approach home owners with an offer of furnace cleaning have no intention of merely cleaning the furnace, but use the approach as a ruse to gain entrance to the home, it warned.

Then the favorite technique is to tear down the furnace, summon the householder and warn him falsely that the furnace is "cracked and in dangerous condition," the BBB announcement said. The warning generally contains a threat that if the furnace is used again the occupants of the home will face death from carbon monoxide poisoning.

Such "scare" tactics, combined with high-pressure selling, often frighten householders into signing contracts for new furnace installations, the warning said.

The BBB complaints which it receives show that elderly persons are particularly vulnerable to the furnace repair racket. It said relatives and neighbors can be helpful by warning elderly home owners against the racket.

The BBB announcement emphasized that the great majority of heating contractors are honest, reliable workmen and its warning is aimed at curbing the few shady operators on the fringe of the business.

It said home owners can protect themselves by following these rules:

1. Establish contact with a dealer of known reliability, avoiding firms that use high-pressure or "scare" tactics or "bait" advertising of furnace repairs and service. If in doubt, check with the BBB or Chamber.
2. Have the servicing done when the furnace is not needed to avoid making hasty decisions as cold weather approaches. In buying a furnace, obtain competitive bids. Be wary of unusually low offers.

Suggestions Are Offered For Checking Moisture

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

No less an authority than the National Paint Varnish and Lacquer Association made the statement that it is a wonder most houses do not fall down from the excessive moisture which is released in them.

Most of us know that moisture in great amounts is very bad for all types of building materials, but few of us do anything about it until the paint starts to peel, plaster turns dark and woodwork discolors.

It is a fact that when the average family wash is done, five pounds of water has been injected into the house atmosphere. When the family spends a full day at home it exhales no less than one and a half gallons of water into the air in the house.

The amount thrown off by hot baths, cooking, washing and general activities is almost impossible to believe, but experts have proved the facts. The average American household is usually semi-saturated, and when damp weather or continued rainy weather prevails, the house literally drips.

There are several ways to check excessive dampness and humidity. Best of all is to open the windows in clear weather; next is the kitchen fan which pulls out the cooking steam; and after that come the essential attic vents or louvers which help ventilation.

Also useful are electric dehumidifiers, which in very damp houses take as much as a full pail of water a day out of the air. Chemical dehumidifiers, which can be hung in closets or damp corners can absorb up to a quart of water per day. All of these are of great help in keeping a house at a normal humidity and in prevention deterioration of the structure.

Painting Ceiling By Roller? Then These Tips Will Help

WASHINGTON — Paint a ceiling without a ladder? You can do it with a long-handled roller while standing on the floor if you are going to paint the walls later, as most people do, the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association says.

First thing to do is select the type of quality paint you wish to use. Flat paints are preferred for ceilings in all rooms except kitchens and baths where semi-gloss enamel is recommended because of its greater resistance to moisture vapor and steam. The reason for using flat paint elsewhere is that it reflects light without glare.

Next comes color. White will give the greatest reflection of light and will make a ceiling look higher. Painting the ceiling of one room in a tint of the wall color of the adjoining room will create a continuous color scheme that will tie two or more rooms together. Where ceilings are high, you can reverse the above advice and paint them in darker tones to lower them visually.

If you do the entire job with a roller, here are a few things to remember. Brush on a strip of paint around the entire perimeter of the ceiling. Roll the first stroke away from you. Don't roll too fast or you'll spatter the paint. Slow down as you reach the wall. Ease into the junction of wall and ceiling so as to get as little paint as possible on the wall.

The job will be easier and neater if you use a ladder or firm plank held by two ladders to brush on the paint near the wall.

If you are using a latex paint which doesn't show lap marks, paint a narrow strip around the entire perimeter of the ceiling. You'll fill in the center area later with your roller. If you are using an alkyd paint, it's best to work across the narrow dimension of the ceiling.

Start in a corner and paint a narrow strip two or three feet wide against the wall. After loading your roller, roll on a strip of the same width working for the unpainted area into the still-wet wallside strip. When you get to the far side of the room, paint the area near the wall with brush or roller and paint guard. As you roll along, work backward into the wet edge of the previous strip. Criss-cross your strokes to cover the area completely.

A word about painting kitchen and bathroom ceilings. Likely as not, they'll be covered with a coating of cooking grease and soap film carried there by steam from stove or shower. It's a good idea to wash the surface before painting, because the oily film will interfere with the adhesion of the new paint. If the old enamel is still shiny, degloss it with steel wool for the same reason.

Home Should Fit Needs Of Family

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

If your house doesn't fit family needs, no amount of money can make a good investment out of it, advises housing specialist Glenda Pifer, extension worker with the University of Illinois.

The safest way to get a reasonable facsimile of what you need is to know in advance what you require, she points out. We all know people who have bought houses for impulsive reasons — the swimming pool is in a beautiful setting, there is a marvelous workroom for the man of the family, or the lady of the house has at last found her dream kitchen. But one bright gizmo doesn't make a house.

This specialist suggests that once you've determined your family's living habits, activities in the household, furniture space and future housing needs, you can sit down and list your needs under subheads: working, living, sleeping.

LIST necessary things first, and look for those things, regardless of whether the kitchen is pink or blue. Other things being equal, a small paint job could change a color that is distasteful.

Miss Pifer suggests this check list:

- Does the amount of available space fit the family's size, possessions and activities?
- Is there circulation within spaces where it is needed? Is the space dead ending where no circulation is desired?
- Is the space flexible so that the house will fit the family's needs now and later?
- Will such features as heights and amounts of work spaces in the kitchen and utility room be sufficient and convenient?
- Is space readily available for recreational activities?
- Are bedrooms adequate — in both number and size?
- Do storage spaces allow storage in terms of first use, clear visibility and accessibility?
- Is natural and artificial lighting controllable and directed to put general and specific lighting where needed?

Can sound originating inside and outside be controlled?

Do furnishings, equipment, materials and construction promote safety?

THERE ARE other important considerations that should be well thought out before the family looks for a home in a particular area.

These include being near transportation that suits working members of the family, and within a reasonable distance from schools and recreation facilities for children.

The convenience of shopping areas are important, especially to mothers of small children. And for couples with young children it is important to choose a house that is in an area with other children of the same age level.

VANPORT, Pa.—The 84 Lumber Co. has opened a yard in Rochester, N. Y., James DiTonto, manager of the firm's distribution yard here, has announced.

There are now 15 yards in the organization, with four more scheduled to be opened by the end of the year, DiTonto said.

Thirty per cent of New York City's high school students are daily smokers of cigarettes, a survey by the American Cancer Society indicates.

COMPACT retirement home, 22 by 30, with 660 square feet, plus porch and carport, has no major side windows, guaranteeing privacy from next-door neighbors. The kitchen is not visible from the front door or living area of the L-shape living-dining room. The kitchen has a small folding table hinged under the window; a utility room opens onto the carport. Ten feet of closets in the bedroom act as insulation between bedroom and living room. Plumbing is the economical "back-to-back" and the tub is away from the bathroom window. ## Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Monday, Nov. 11, the 315th day of 1963. There are 50 days left in the year. Today is Veterans Day.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1918, World War I came to an end at 11 a.m. after the signing of an armistice near Compiegne, France. In a message to the nation, President Woodrow Wilson declared: "The armistice was signed this morning. Everything for which America fought has been accomplished."

On this date: In 1776, Maryland's state constitution was established, although it was never submitted to the people for approval. In 1868, the New York Athletic Club was the scene of the world's first indoor track meet.

In 1889, Washington was admitted to the union as the 42nd state.

In 1941, the Finnish government rejected a U.S. warning to cease fighting Russia after recovering lost territory.

In 1954, the first observance of Veterans Day saw 16,000 persons in New York City become U.S. citizens.

Ten years ago—President Eisenhower and Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell defended the patriotism of former President Truman in connection with charges made in the Harry Dexter White scandal.

The first high-speed printing press was perfected in 1847 by Richard M. Hoe.

Snow-Melting System Can End Problem

You can turn a disagreeable experience into a pleasant memory by having a snow melting system installed in the walks and driveway of your home.

Automatic snow removal is one of the unique benefits of hydronic heating, says the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau of Chicago.

With the hydronic snow melting system, the boiler that heats the house can be used to eliminate snow and ice from walks and drives.

Hot water from the boiler is pumped to a heat exchanger. An anti-freeze solution absorbs heat from the boiler water. It is then circulated in piping embedded in sidewalks and driveways.

Snow-melting systems can be operated either manually or automatically. For utmost economy, have the manual system installed. Once it's in, you simply flip a switch to turn it on when the snow begins to fly.

Thermostatically controlled, other systems work automatically. When temperatures drop to the point at which snow may be expected, the system goes on. This is especially convenient late at night when you are in bed.

As soon as walks and drives are warm, the automatic system shuts off. Any snow falling melts as soon as it strikes the heated surfaces.

The hydronic snow removal system is easily installed in new homes and in existing homes. Any competent heating contractor can provide full details of installation and operating costs.

Snow-melting systems are usually designed for a melting rate of one inch per hour. Any desired rate, however, may be provided for in the design. This is a good point to discuss with the heating contractor based on the annual average snow fall in your area.

William Henry Harrison, in 1841, was the first President to die while in office.

Wellsville Gains Revenge Over Rival Beavers, 22-16

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer
Combining the lightning-like speed of halfback Jim Reed with a defense that gave ground only grudgingly, Wellsville High rolled to a 22-16 victory over arch-rival Beaver Local in the windup of their seasons Saturday night at Patterson Field.

A shivering crowd of 2,500 looked on in neutral territory as Wellsville gained revenge for two straight previous losses to its backyard foe and swept runner-up honors in the Buckeye Border Conference.

REED, 160-pound senior, scored his 10th and 11th touchdowns of the season for Wellsville on long gallops and the Tigers' stubborn defense stopped Beaver Local cold in the first half.

The victory for Coach Ken Woods Tigers, their third in succession in conference play, was a little more decisive than the final score would indicate.

WELLSVILLE was in command of a 22-8 lead until yielding a touchdown through the air with 1:12 left in a hard-fought battle. It was a case of too little, too late for Coach Ed Stevens' Beavers, who couldn't get anything going for them in the first half.

Reed staked the Tigers to an early lead in dashing 50 yards on a punt return, and later went 39 yards on a dazzling reverse, in which he raced to the left sidelines, cut back sharply and found a few blockers, and galloped into the end zone untouched.

SCORING twice for Beaver Local was the hero of last year's 22-6 conquest of Wellsville — pint-sized Jim McLaughlin. A quarterback in that game, McLaughlin engineered the win with sharp ball handling and passing. This time he performed at halfback, scoring twice and leading the Beavers' ground game with 91 yards.

"What a defense, they were just tough, real tough," a jubilant Ken Woods declared later. The Wellsville dressing room was a noisy, happy chamber of confusion with Reed leading the marked by hard tackles and frequent penalties. There were heroes for each side, but Reed, fullback Dale Mobley, freshman quarterback Chris Thornton and the entire line were big factors for Wellsville.

Mobley, hard-hitting 160-pound senior, kept Wellsville's offensive attack rolling with 21 carries for 90 yards and one touchdown. Reed picked up 68 yards in 11 carries, plus returning the punt for a 50-yard touchdown run.

THORNTON, a freshman who has a full two seasons of football remaining, gained 62 yards but was dropped for 29 yards in losses while attempting to pass. But he was a giant on defense.

Tiger line Coach Dick Jones singled out Bill and Pete Pease on the front wall, plus center Terry Grills and guard Dick Koontz for standout play. End Roger McLain, who improved rapidly since the opening game, also drew mention.

Koontz did a tremendous job of punting for Wellsville. One kick traveled 44 yards, and another 39 yards to roll dead at the Beaver Local one and result in a two-point safety for the Tigers.

Reed's Pair Of TD's Sparks Tigers

WELLSVILLE'S line kept the pressure on BL quarterback Norm Gaydos, who was able to complete only four of 14 passes. Dropped for consistent losses in the first half, this led to the Beavers accounting for only 57 yards gained in the first two quarters to Wellsville's 139.

An exchange of fumbles marked the scoreless first period. Soph tackle Allen Copestick recovered one of Wellsville's fumbles at the Beaver Local 29 in the opening minutes, and McLain grabbed one of Beaver Local's minutes later. Copestick made his second recovery of a Wellsville fumble in the same quarter.

In the second period, Reed raced 50 yards down the sidelines to arm Wellsville with a 6-0 lead and Chris Thornton passed to end Pat Welch for the conversion.

WELLSVILLE lost its third of four fumbles in the first half after driving to the Beaver Local 36 with two minutes of play remaining before intermission.

The fumble recovered by Wellsville's Melvin Wolfe at the Beaver Local 19 minutes into the third quarter led to a touchdown for the Tigers.

Four rushes by Mobley carried to the Beaver Local five and a first down, and the Tiger fullback crashed over on the next play to give Wellsville a 14-0 lead.

RETALIATING about two minutes later, the Beavers shook McLaughlin loose for 34 yards down the sidelines. He squirmed from Mobley's grasp near the goal line and went over standing up. Fullback Floyd Saltsman, also a hard runner, ran over the conversion.

The Tigers racked up a two-point safety after Koontz's punt rolled dead at the Beaver Local one, with seven seconds left in the third quarter, for a 16-8 lead.

AFTER THE kickoff, the Tigers made it 22-8 when Reed turned in a 39 yard touchdown run on a reverse. A slower back would have probably been trapped far from the goal line, but Reed outran all his would-be tacklers.

A Gaydos - to - McLaughlin pass with 1:12 left in the game, and Saltsman's run for the conversion narrowed Wellsville's lead to 22-16, but the outcome didn't appear in doubt at this stage.

Saltsman, a senior, carried 17 times for the Beavers, gaining 61 yards. The Beavers were held to 36 yards rushing in the first half, but came on strong in the second to finish with 165 yards rushing.

Regular center Dave Bell of Wellsville missed the game due to a broken hand received in practice.

Steelers Practice 'Safety First', Drop Browns Into Two-Way Tie For Lead

TITTLE'S Passing Paces Giant Win

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
You're Cleveland quarterback Frank Ryan. You're leading 7-0 in the third quarter, but it's second down with the ball on your own three-yard line.

What do you do?
Sure. You give it to Jimmy Brown.
Well, you, Ryan, Brown and Coach Blanton agree. So does Pittsburgh linebacker Bob Schmitz, who diagnosed the pitch-out, knifed through and slammed Brown to the ground for a safety that propelled the Steelers to a 9-7 victory over Cleveland Sunday in the top upset on the National Football League program.

"Ryan had one chance to call the play," said Collier. "I think it was called right. You should be able to execute a play anywhere on the field."

"I just got trapped in the end zone," said Brown, "that was all."

That was all for Cleveland. Pittsburgh took it from there, and scored the clinching touchdown in the fourth quarter on a nine-yard pass to Gary Ballman, a reserve receiver scoring his first touchdown in two years of NFL play.

The loss dropped the Browns into a first-place tie in the Eastern Conference with the New York Giants, who brought their record to 7-2 as Y. A. Tittle passed for three touchdowns in an easy 42-14 triumph over Philadelphia.

Green Bay and Chicago, meanwhile, remained in a tie for the Western Division lead with 8-1 records. The whole issue may be settled when the two teams meet Sunday in Chicago.

The Packers broke a 7-7 tie in the second half as John Roach passed for two of his three touchdown passes and a 28-7 victory over Minnesota. The Bears ran into even more difficulty, edging Los Angeles 6-0 on two field goals by Roger LeClerc.

St. Louis rode three touchdown passes by Charley Johnson to a 24-20 victory over Washington. San Francisco's Lamar McHan hit for three scoring strikes in a 31-24 triumph over Dallas and Jim Martin's field goal proved the difference as Baltimore edged Detroit 24-21.

In the American League, San Diego edged Boston 7-6 and Houston defeated New York 31-27. Buffalo beat Denver 27-17 Saturday night.

Howe Finally Sets Mark By Netting 545th Goal

DETROIT (AP) — Gordie Howe and the Detroit Red Wings ended two long weeks of frustration Sunday when the All-Star right winger scored a record-setting 545th career goal in a 3-0 National Hockey League victory over Montreal.

Howe's goal, the third scored in the second period by the Red Wings, came with Detroit's Alex Faulkner in the penalty box. The crowd of 15,027 rose to its feet when the red light went on behind Montreal goalie Charlie Hodge and gave Howe a seven-minute ovation.

The goal broke the record of Montreal's Maurice (The Rocket) Richard, who had 544 in 18 NHL seasons. Howe currently is in his 18th season.

Howe tied Richard's mark two weeks ago against the Canadians. Since that time, the Red Wings were able to win only one of five games—that a 1-0 triumph over New York last Thursday.

While Howe was getting all of the attention for his goal, Detroit goalie Terry Sawchuk quietly moved into a tie for most career shutouts (94) with former Toronto and Montreal netminder George Hainsworth. Sawchuk also has 10 shutouts in Stanley Cup play.

The game was one of two played in the NHL Sunday. In the other one, Boston ended Chicago's 11-game unbeaten streak with a 4-2 victory. The last-place Bruins got 43 shots at reserve goaltender Denis DeJordy, who was pressed into action because Glenn Hall was sidelined with a stomach disorder.

Beard Wins

Sinatra Open,

Gains $9,000

By CHARLES MAHER

Associated Press Sports Writer

PALM SPRING, Calif. (AP)—

The announced purpose of

Frank Sinatra's $50,000 golf tournament was to help needy youngsters.

Already it's helped one — the guy who got the winner's purse.

Frank Beard, an obscure, 24-year-old Kentuckian, birdied

two of his last three holes Sunday, shot a two-under-par 69 and won the first Sinatra Invitational Open by a single stroke.

Sinatra gave him a check for $9,000, which is $61.02 more than

Beard had won in all his previous tournaments combined.

Beard, who never entered the national amateur tournament

because he never had enough money, has been playing professionally a year.

Jerry Steelsmith, who got

$4,600 for finishing second, isn't exactly up to his eyeballs in currency either. Steelsmith, whose wife is expecting a second child, ranked 56th among 1963 PGA money winners with $11,109.56

coming into the Sinatra event.

Beard's 72-hole score of 68-72-

69-69-278 was six under par.

Steelsmith was five under at

Kaye Fools TV Experts

On the jet which took me to Australia recently there was a young steward named Neville Williams, who looks to much like Danny Kaye that three or four passengers on each trip tell him about it. I added my opinion to the refrain, then said I knew Kaye slightly and would Hal Humphrey mention Neville to him. "When you do, please say I will trade jobs with him," said Neville, obviously not sold completely on stewarding as a career.

"YOU TELL NEVILLE," said Kaye, after learning of his look-alike. "I'll bet I can do his job better than he can do mine." Kaye has a great deal of confidence in himself as a performer and a person. He no doubt visualized himself becoming a first-rate airline steward within a week. Young Williams might have trouble turning headline comic in that time.

Before Kaye embarked on his first weekly TV series seven weeks ago, bets were being made that such a highly specialized comedian as Kaye couldn't be spread over 32 consecutive weeks.

One comedy writer was unkind enough to crack, "CBS is worried that Judy Garland won't show up every week, but that Danny Kaye will."

IF CBS ever was worried about Kaye's staying power, it isn't worrying now. Miss Garland's shows are getting progressively more embarrassing to watch, while Kaye's so far are maintaining a quality pace. He also is outclassing Miss Garland in the ratings, which counts more than anything with the CBS bosses.

Kaye proudly is going around saying that he hasn't yet done an old piece of comedy business from his repertoire.

"Of course, I've only been on seven weeks, and there are 25 to go," he says. "In another seven weeks I may be saying, 'Who needed it?' If the series is a success, then I will tell everyone how rewarding a weekly TV show is."

ONE ADVANTAGE Kaye has over most of his colleagues is a firm CBS commitment for 32 shows regardless of what happens. Other shows work under a 13-week renewal option, which gives the star a feeling he is walking the plank before getting a chance to appeal his case to the captain.

To those who ask what effect the weekly TV pace is having on him thus far, Kaye insists it is all to the good.

"It is the first time in my life I've felt really productive. I am not exhausted or frantic, thanks to my staff. I realize now that I was in semi-retirement the past five years."

THE ONE THING he misses from his movie making is the period between pictures when he can listen to, and simmer in, the adulation of the critics and public.

"There's no time to take bows for the good shows you do on weekly TV. But then you don't have time to brood over the bad ones either. The day after the show, you're back in the stall working on next week's," Kaye reports.

He was thinking of doing his show "live," as Jerry Lewis is doing. Spontaneity and just the feeling of doing the show now naturally appeals to the ham in most performers. But Kaye (and probably some of those around him) decided that taping the show straight through before an audience was just as good, and safer.

"BECAUSE so many millions of people watch a TV program simultaneously," says Kaye, "the medium blows up talent out of all proportion to reality. This can have a strange effect on a performer. It makes some of them do things which get them beyond their talent."

I think what Kaye is trying to describe here is the God-like feeling a performer frequently gets from the knowledge he is in contact with, say, 30 million people at once.

What usually happens next is a swelling in the head which convinces the performer he can say and do no wrong, and then he begins to bore his 30 million fans trying to prove it.

Elkins Man Eyes Governor's Race In West Virginia

ELKINS — Attorney Bonn Brown disclosed today he has turned down appointment to "several responsible positions" in the administration of Gov. W. W. Barron.

He also said he expects to become a candidate for governor in the near future.

Brown said he declined the office of political jobs "because I wanted to maintain a law practice built over a period of 26 years." He made the remarks in a speech prepared for broadcast over 25 radio stations.

The Elkins attorney said he expected to make a definite announcement as to his candidacy within the next two weeks. For several months he has been testing the political climate by canvassing Democratic leaders.

Brown said he and Barron have been friends for at least 30 years, but contrary to numerous reports, "we are not, and never have been, law partners."

"I began the practice of law in Elkins in 1934, and in 1941, Gov. Barron became associated with my firm," Brown explained. "We had a verbal agreement at that time as to our association, which each has respected and kept inviolate."

He did not explain the terms of the agreement.

City Woman Honored For Lengthy Service

Miss Olive Joy Hall, 603 E. 5th St., has returned after attending a meeting of state examiners in Columbus and her 31 years service was one of the longest of those present.

Miss Hall, 74, was appointed by Joseph Tracy, state auditor from 1921 to 1937. His son, Roger W. Tracy, is the current state auditor.

Other veteran women state examiners present included Mrs. Janette Fischer, 63, of Cleveland, and Miss Lura Pelley, 71, of Westerville, both 41 years.

City Youth Deprived Of Driving Privileges

An East Liverpool area youth was one of two drivers given suspensions of their driving rights at Traffic Court hearings at the Courthouse at Lisbon.

The permit of Joseph W. Hopel, 16, of R.D. 3 was suspended 20 days for speeding and that of Robert B. Labbe, 16, of Salem, for six months. Labbe was also given a 7 p.m. curfew and must report each week to # Juvenile Officer Cornelius Csepke.

Ronald J. Charlton, 17, of Salem R. D. 5 was fined $15 for speeding and Richard L. Graybeal, 14, of Salem, $10 for driving without a license. He was ordered not to apply for a license until after June 13, 1965.

Jodine Pilmer, 16, of 510 Chestnut St., Lisbon, was warned for failing to signal a turn. Labbe was cited by Salem police, the others by the State Highway Patrol.

2 Aides In Wiretapping Due Leave As Probe's Launched

Today In Washington By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

OTEPKA: Two of three State Department officials who have acknowledged that the telephone wiretapping in Otto F. Otepka's office was rigged for eavesdropping will go on "administrative leave" Tuesday.

Meanwhile, the department has launched an inquiry into the incident and said it will move as promptly as possible.

Going on indefinite leave, depending on the termination of the inquiry, a department source said Saturday, are John F. Reilly, deputy assistant secretary of state for security, and Elmer Dewey Hill, chief of the division of technical services in the department's office of security.

They and David I. Belisle, Reilly's special assistant, have told the Senate Internal Security subcommittee that wires were connected to Otepka's telephone to permit eavesdropping on conversations.

They also said no actual interception of conversation took place.

Otepka, a veteran State Department security officer, has been dismissed on charges of unbecoming conduct. Among other things he was accused of supplying the subcommittee with information from confidential employee loyalty files.

PLANE PRICE: It will cost Australia an estimated $125 million to purchase two squadrons of TFX fighter-bombers from the United States.

In calculating the approximate price Sunday, the Defense Department said the Australians will foot part of the development costs as well as production expenses.

The TFX—tactical fighter, experimental—is still on the drawing boards. Australia intends to purchase 24 of the planes, which will carry the designation F111A.

RED TRADE: Sen. Jacob K. Javits thinks the United States should expand its trade with the Soviet bloc in nonstrategic goods.

And in so doing, says the New York Republican, the United States should coordinate its policy with that of other non-Communist nations already doing business with Russia.

Javits made the remarks Sunday in a program taped in Paris and relayed to New York State for radio and television broadcast.

"Taps" Played By Man Who Marked War End

TYLER, Tex. (AP)—The man who blew the bugle to mark the end of World War I, Hartley B. Edwards, was to sound taps today in Tyler's Veteran's Day observance.

Edwards still uses the same bugle that, as a member of Gen. John J. Pershing's private drum and bugle corps, he played as he stood beneath the Arc de Triomphe in Paris at 11 a.m. 45 years ago when the armistice was signed by the Allies and Germans went into effect.

Junior Editors Quiz on SCIENCE

QUESTION: How do they measure the height of mountains?

ANSWER: There are several ways to do this; our picture shows two widely used methods. Mountains are measured by their height above sea level, or altitude; instruments used to do this are called altimeters. In our picture a mountain climber, breathing oxygen through his face mask, is checking his altitude with an aneroid altimeter.

To understand how this works, remember air has definite weight; the air higher up presses down on that below. This means there are different air pressures according to height. Inside the climber's altimeter is a little metal box whose sides move in and out according to the air pressure; this registers on the dial in feet and shows the climber's height above sea level. The plane in upper left also has one of these, which shows how high it is up in the air; but it is also equipped with an "absolute altimeter." A radio flash sent down from the plane bounces up again; by the time taken to bounce back, the altimeter shows how high the plane is above the mountain top. If this height is then deducted from the plane's height above sea level, the height of the mountain will be known.

FOR YOU TO DO: Fill a small-necked bottle with water. Start pouring the water out. Can you tell why it does not pour out more readily?

Jeff Hovis of Waynesboro, Pa., wins today's grand prize of a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you too may win a set.
